Proforma Screening Solutions Partners with Global Human Resources Consulting Firm, Talent Plus

Purcellville, VA, (April 20, 2010) - Proforma Screening Solutions announces a newly-formed strategic partnership with the premier global human resources consulting firm, Talent Plus. Proforma is able to provide comprehensive employment screening services to Talent Plus' roster of more than 200 world class Talent-Based Organizations®.

Talent Plus works with organizations to recruit and select top talent, repeatedly, with exponential returns on investment. Employment screening is important in the selection process, enabling organizations to learn more about the individuals who will join their workforce. A comprehensive screening approach delivered by Proforma Screening Solutions, combined with human resources consulting services from Talent Plus, enables organizations to build a sustainable competitive advantage by consistently selecting and developing the right employees.

"The ability to tie selection and due diligence together in one integrated solution suite is compelling for those organizations that recognize their competitive advantage rests with their workforce," says David Lowers, CEO of Proforma. "We are pleased to bring Proforma's employment screening services to the validated solutions of Talent Plus."

"To find the right talent you must have the right process and the right partner," says Kimberly Rath, President of Talent Plus. She continues, "Too often we encounter companies that view screening as a task rather than a business strategy. In contrast, Proforma serves as a trusted advisor to help organizations realize a return on their recruiting, selection, screening and retention investments. The result is an environment of reduced risk that contributes to long-term organizational health."
